EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

Thunderstorm

Thunderstorms can bring lightning, heavy rain, hail, strong winds and tornadoes.

Safety tips

- be aware of weather conditions and warnings
- seek shelter immediately if a warning has been issued or you believe one could occur

If you are indoors:

- Stay away from windows, skylights and glass doors — strong winds and large hailstones can shatter them.
- Avoid running water in your house — lightning can enter through pipes and plumbing.
- Don't take showers or baths during a thunderstorm.
- Remain indoors during a thunderstorm and stay inside for at least 30 minutes after the last rumble of thunder.
- Be prepared to seek shelter in a basement or interior room on the lowest level if conditions worsen.

If you are outdoors:

- If you hear thunder, then lightning is close enough to be dangerous — take shelter in an enclosed building or metal-topped vehicle.
- Avoid water, high ground, isolated trees, power lines and picnic shelters — small, open structures don't protect you from lightning.
- If there's no shelter, go to a low-lying area away from tall, isolated objects — crouch down and put your feet together — do not lie down.

PREPARE NOW

Take the following steps so you and your family are prepared in the event of an emergency:

- Have a safe room in your home where everyone gathers during a storm — away from windows, skylights and glass doors.
- If there's a tornado, gather in a basement, storm cellar or interior room on the lowest floor.
- Remove dead or rotting trees and branches that could fall and cause injury or damage.
- Bring inside or tie-down garbage cans and lawn furniture.
- Use surge protectors — a safety electrical plug that will shut off the power if lightning strikes to prevent damage to your computer and other household items.
